

* Literature Search and Review: the base of Research Process

2nd March 2022

Dr. Rizvi Digital Library and Research Cell organised an Online lecture on Literature Search and Review: the base of research process, by Dr. Sushma Powdwal, Retd. University Librarian, SNTD Women's University for our teachers on 2nd March 2022. Literature search and review is the most important step of any research process, hence to add value to the research done by our teachers, this lecture was organised. Dr. Sushma Powdwal gave information on objectives of Literature review and steps to write a literature review. Steps to conduct Gap Analysis was also looked upon. Different Literature search tools, sources and resources which can be used to refine the search output were explained. Tips on searching skills like which terms, signs, Boolean operators to be used were shared by the resource person. Examples of different online resources available like e-journal databases, institutional repositories, thesis database, consortium were given to find the relevant information for research. The teachers gained added knowledge to sharpen their research focus.
